Absentee 'George' Throws Birthday Fete For Students

Bren Macken, alias "Little Egypt", subs for "George" at the Birthday Party, while the "Harvey Girls" await their cue.

There are those who claim that George threw a wrench into the works when he converted the trunk of the cherry tree into numerous chips of assorted shapes and sizes. A few still contend that George was hurling good money after bad when he did his famous dollar job on the Potomac River.

It is claimed that the truth was bandied about a bit when the Father of His Country claimed to have never prevaricated.

Be that as it may, no one could rightly claim that George doesn't know how to celebrate his own birthday. Those who would scoff should have been led to the Wig-

Council Debate Series Discusses Free Trade

Trips for the 1946 season by the William and Mary Inter-Collegiate Debate Council will begin tomorrow with a debate scheduled in Lynchburg, Va.

Virginia Stephens and Edith Isele will be a negative team representing William and Mary's Debate Council in a debate tomorrow, February 28, at Randolph-Macon Women's College at Lynchburg, Va.

Plans are being made for a second negative team, composed of B. J. Taylor, Herbert Bateman, and Ann Batchelder, to make a northern trip—including debates at Washington, D. C.; University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Penna.; Temple College, Philadelphia, Penna.; and Columbia University, New York, N. Y. This trip will be made from March 4 through March 8. The topic of the debates will be, Resolved: That the foreign policy of the United States should be directed toward the establishment of free trade among the nations of the world.

Three new members have been added to the Debate Council as a result of try-outs held Tuesday, February 19. They are Norma Meister, freshman; Ken Scott, freshman; and Don Kilgore, sophomore.

Seniors Hold Meeting To Choose Secretary

Members of the senior class will meet tomorrow night in the Apollo Room of Phi Beta Kappa Hall at 6:45, to discuss business relevant to graduation.

Plans for graduation, finals week end, and the election of a permanent class secretary will be the most important items on the agenda.

"Those seniors who have not paid class dues should bring them to the meeting," stated Nancy Grube, senior president.

Stewart Appears In Violin Concert

Alan C. Stewart, assistant professor of fine arts, will present a violin concert, the third in a series of faculty concerts, tomorrow, February 28, at 8:00 p. m. in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. The program will include Sonata No. II in A Major, Opus 100 by Brahms, Sonata in D Major, Opus 137 No. 1 by Schubert, and Beethoven's Sonata No. VIII in G major, Opus 30 No. 3.

Andrew Haigh, associate professor of fine arts, will accompany Mr. Stewart. Mr. Haigh has announced that the music department plans to give the fourth faculty concert on April 5. Cary McMurrin and Mr. Haigh will play two pianos.

Concert Series Set For 46-47 By Committee

For the first time, the students are participating in the selection of guest artists for the William and Mary concert series. The faculty committee on lectures, art, and music met with student representatives Wednesday, February 21, to decide what concert artists are to be brought to the College during the 1946-47 series. It was determined to have Vronsky and Babin, duo-pianists, and John Carter, tenor of the Metropolitan Opera.

As the committee could not agree on the third performance, it was decided that the student body should vote on the three artists in question: George Enesco, a violinist and composer of the Hungarian Rhapsody; Gregor Pialigorsky, a cellist; or the Trapp Family Singers, a vocal and instrumental group. Ballots were passed out in the cafeteria Friday evening for the voting. The committee and representatives are again meeting this afternoon in Washington 300 to count the ballots. The results will appear next week.

March 1 is the deadline set by the junior class for organizations to notify Bert Rance that they will take part in the Junior Follies, according to Bert, president of the class.

A faculty committee headed by Dr. A. Pelzer Wagener has formerly had complete charge of the concert series, and it was only recently decided to allow the students to have a share in choosing the guest artists. A committee of students were nominated by the faculty group for this purpose. On the student committee are Ann Andrews, Marjorie Dykes, David Lindower, Marcia Magill, Richard McCracken, Bill Norgren, Sumner Rand, Helen Staples, Yvonne Sturtevant, and Herbert Tucker.

The next concert to be given in Phi Beta Kappa Hall will be held on March 19. William Primrose, violinist, is to be guest artist.

TO ALL NONFRATERNITY MEN:

The rushing regulations as set up by the Interfraternity Association will be presented to you in a booklet which is being prepared for issuance to all men interested in joining a fraternity.

There is, however, one rule which has been passed by the Association which bears explaining. We have set a quota on the number of men which each fraternity will be allowed to pledge.

You can see, therefore, that we have automatically eliminated many of the men eligible for rushing. Such a step is, on the surface, undemocratic, to say the least. However, we have good reason for such an action.

The memberships of the various fraternities as now constituted is entirely due to chance. That is, present fraternity membership is made up of men who have been discharged and able to return to college. One fraternity has a total of seventeen members (actives and pledges), while two fraternities have only one representative on campus.

Our problem is to give all of the fraternities as equal a start as possible. We would like to see them in a more or less equal position in the fall when rushing will take place without quota restrictions. For the good of the Interfraternity Association and the good of the College, it is best that there be no preponderance of power among a few of the fraternities.

Therefore, we had to set these quotas. In a good many cases, fraternities may be unable to pledge all of the men they want because of the quota restrictions. By the same token, you might not be able to pledge the fraternity you want because of that same restriction. But at the same time, the membership of the fraternities will be leveling off.

In November, rushing will once again take place . . . on an even basis, we hope. Please bear with us and try to understand our position; we are not attempting to make excuses. We had a problem; this is how we met it.

The Interfraternity Association.

WSCGA Holds Elections For New 1946-47 Officials

Association Devotes 3 Meetings To Selection Of Student Leaders

Women Students' Cooperative Government Association officers will be elected during the first three weeks in March. On Monday, March 4, nominations will be made and on the following Wednesday, March 6, elections will take place.

Those offices to be filled during the first week of elections are president, vice-president and treasurer of the Executive Council, and three junior members of the Honor Committee. Nominations are made by the senior nominating committee with an equal number of nominations made for the same office by secret ballot from the floor, for all offices except the president of the Executive Council and the chairman of the Honor and Judicial Committees.

At the second meeting of the Association on March 11, nominations for the chairman of the Honor and Judicial Committees, secretary of the Judicial Committee, junior member of the Judicial Committee, and sophomore member of the Honor Committee will be made. Election of these officers will take place on the following Wednesday.

Nominations will be made for the two senior members of the Honor Committee, sophomore member of the Judicial Committee, two representatives-at-large to the Executive Council, and two representatives-at-large to the Judicial Committee at the third meeting, on March 18. Members go to the polls on the following Wednesday to elect these officers.

Nominees must be members of the class preceding the year for which they are to serve. The chairmen of the Committees must be juniors, and sophomore representatives will be freshmen women.

For further information concerning the quota system, see box on this page.

Short Summer School Replaces Longer Session

The 1946 summer session at William and Mary, under the direction of George J. Oliver, dean of summer session, will open on June 20 and classes will continue until Friday, August 23. The nine-week session will replace the twelve-week session which has been in operation during the war years. However, students may take classes for three, six, or nine weeks.

The summer session is an integral part of the college year, and in every department instruction is given largely by professors who teach in the regular session. Counseling services will be available to returning service men and women to help them plan new programs on the basis of new interests and needs. Courses normally offered in the regular session and extension of certain courses beyond the end of the summer session are provided for in the summer program to meet the needs of this group.

This summer, special courses will be offered dealing with United States relations with Latin American countries, with Russia, China, and Japan. A course in geography, with a special emphasis on the global point of view, will be offered.

The college, in conjunction with Colonial Williamsburg, Inc., will also introduce a week's observation and study of Colonial Society in Virginia.

Classes Elect Assemblymen

Dick Baker was elected vice president of the senior class at elections held on Friday, February 22, in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. Three men representatives to the Student Assembly were also elected at that time: Ennis Rees, senior representative; Tom Mikula, junior representative; and Frank Deierhoi, freshman representative. These elections were held to replace officers who left college at the beginning of the spring term.

A native of Philadelphia, Penna., Dick is a President's Aide and chairman of the Publications Committee. He is also a member of the Student Assembly and Debate Council. He was a junior member of the Men's Honor Council last year.

Ennis Rees attended Newport News High School where he was a member of the football team and the Writers' Club. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Tom Mikula, from Johnstown, Penna., recently returned to College after receiving his discharge from the Army Air Corps in December. A President's Aide, Tom was a member of the '43 football squad and was elected captain of the '44 team, but left school before the end of the season.

Frank Deierhoi attended Thomas Jefferson High School in Richmond, Va., where he was a member of the football and track teams, president of the freshman class and vice president of the sophomore class.

Is It Worth . . . ... Five Minutes?

Approximately 300 students, a little over one-fourth of the student body, voted in the special elections last Friday. No candidates were named by petition for either position open in the senior class; two petitions were entered by junior candidates, one of which was invalidated by having only three of the required ten signatures; phenomenally, the four freshman nominees were named by petition.

Nevertheless, student representatives were elected—representatives of one-fourth of the group from which they were chosen. They will be good representatives, but that is due solely to the action of the Senior Nominating Committee in putting up only good nominees.

William and Mary's student government is so organized that even in the face of almost complete apathy on the part of the students it goes on operating. But this is not representative government—it is not good government as long as it requires no effort or interest of the people it governs.

The women on the campus will go to the polls next week to begin a month of elections. In April, the entire campus will choose class officers and Assembly representatives. These elections are important because on them depends whether the students will get their aims accomplished through their delegated representatives or through underground "gripping" which deadens the nebulous and often-sought "spirit" of the school. A disinterested student body means disinterested student officers, and the prime place for interest to be shown is at the polls.

All that is required of each student is five minutes to check a ballot and drop it in a box. In return he gets an active, alive school, with student officers aware of and working for him.

Should W.S.C.G.A. Be Abandoned To Unify Student Body Government?

By LAURIE PRITCHARD

Spring has long been the time for house cleaning. The proximity of elections and the fact that the campus is now in a state of change precludes this as a good time for airing some of the undercurrents so prevalent today.

Should W.S.C.G.A. Be Dissolved?

One of the most important discussions which has arisen recently is that of the present status of the Women Student's Cooperative Government Association. Its function and its necessity for existence deserve careful consideration by everyone. The question about WSCGA which has arisen is "Should WSCGA be changed and brought more directly under the control of student body government with an emphasis upon balance between the men's and women's place in student government?"

Council Necessitates Own Existence

Such a move could not feasibly do away with or change the Women's Honor or Judicial Committees. The third branch, the Executive Council, is the one which must be considered. The constitution of WSCGA lists five functions of this council: 1) "to handle all official business of the association and to consider and act upon such problems as pertain to the welfare of the women students," 2) to select three faculty advisors, 3) to select an editor of the WSCGA handbook, 4) to approve election of house presidents, 5) to fill by appointment all vacancies occurring after the end of the first semester. From this list of functions, it may be seen that except for the first and third, there is no function of the executive council which is not necessitated by its own existence. The approval of the house presidents could well be done by the Judicial Committee to which these officers belong. As for problems concerning the welfare of the women students, there seem to be no problems other than those which are directed to the Honor or Judicial Committees which could not be solved through the student body government, i. e. the Student Assembly.

There is something more to the functions of the Executive Council. It handles the women's orientation program in the fall; it makes financial appropriations to organizations such as Mortar Board and the Red Cross; it calls, plans, and conducts meetings of the women students.

Duty Could Be Assembly's

These functions are important; they cannot be ignored, but there are perhaps other channels through which such functions could be directed. The Student Assembly could handle such things, and if these duties were placed upon Student Assembly, it seems apparent that that organization would become stronger and that more unity in

Students . . . Look in the Mirror

The following is a letter we received from an interested alumnus; we decided to print it here so that the entire student body may profit by it.
Dear Editor:

Upon visiting the campus recently I saw the change which has come over it. Here are some points which can well be improved to make William and Mary what we want it to be.

It seems that the general attitude of the students has become so negativistic that they fail to approach any situation with a favorable attitude. The chief complaint is that the authorities are not cooperative but actually the students are at greatest fault.

One thing which I missed most of all was the friendly atmosphere that was always considered a tradition at William and Mary. It takes so little effort to say, "hi" or "hello" to everyone who passes by, whether it be on the way to an eight o'clock class or down in the post office.

I think the students can concentrate a little more on common courtesy and respect in regard to fellow students, faculty and administration, as well as the townspeople. It seems proper that the students at College should remember more carefully the things taught when growing up.

Since the College is your adopted home for four years, certainly you should treat it as such. Regard for the campus proper should be the concern of every student; the grounds can never be pretty so long as they are cut up with numerous paths. The dorm walls are not blackboards; the halls are not bowling alleys, and coke bottles are not pins. Now that we have matured, we must put away such childish things.

William and Mary is your school and always will be. Why not start looking at all its good points instead of trying to find new complaints all the time? The chances are that if every student would do this, he would find that it's a pretty good place after all.

William and Mary reflects the personality and attitudes of its students. The challenge thrown to you is to make your College one of which we can all be proud.

Sincerely,
An Interested Alumnus.

N. J. G.

William and Mary Go-Round

By FRED FRECHETTE
and DICK CARTER

(There are any number of men on campus now who started their education at William and Mary before leaving for the service. One such student is Dick Carter, who was a freshman in 1942-43. He left William and Mary in the spring of 1943 to enter the Army Air Corps and received his discharge last fall. I might add, and he'll kill me for this, that he was the first, if not the only, member of the original class of '46 to attain the rank of captain.

(To obtain from the returnees through his eyes an idea of their impressions of William and Mary today as compared to the William and Mary they left, I asked him to write this week's column.—F.F.)

SOME THINGS DIDN'T CHANGE . . . . .

Since my return to William and Mary, I have been frequently asked, "How does it feel to be back?" and "What do you think of the college now as compared to 1942?"

Naturally, it feels damned good to be back. The material things are still here: the Music Building (ah, memories); Phi Bete, where the sophs gave the frosh the axe; the Sunken Garden, still a navigational problem; the Wren building and its awful bell, it still rings at the wrong time; the Dining Hall or cafeteria as they call it now (Come to think of it, K Rations were pretty good!); and rain: Water wings and Mae Wests are S.O.P. for going to and from classes. Whenever I get lonely, I glance at my ERC card, don my uniform, and head for sorority court.

SOME THINGS DID CHANGE . . . . .

But there is a great difference between the campus of today and the campus of 1942. The contrast is tremendous, but the restoration of 'things as they was', either in part or in whole, is not impossible. All that is necessary is cooperation . . . by both the student body and the administration.

It is apparent that during the war years, the absence of a vast number of male students placed the responsibility of student activities upon the shoulders of the weaker sex (God Bless 'Em). At this, the morale of the school seems to have tumbled. Several important annual events were cancelled because of the war. There were not enough men left to help make such events successful. In addition, wartime restrictions and college policies discouraged any forward steps that may have been taken by the students who were trying to keep things going. In the face of such odds, I would say that the women and small number of men who did take part in keeping alive several college organizations and activities deserve a lot of credit. The embers are still glowing, but they need rekindling.

There seems to be a definite lack of enthusiasm among the students to take an active part in the various proceedings . . . but they don't mind enjoying the things that others put into action. The general attitude is apparently to let the other guy do it. Last fall, on a visit here, I noticed the attitude of "wait till the veterans get back." That's just a variation of that "let the other guy do it" theme. In other words, the students, frustrated in so many cases, are only interested half-heartedly in their own affairs. They are not using the weapons available to them. The Student Assembly and the General Cooperative Committee, to full advantage.

SOME THINGS SHOULD CHANGE . . . . .

Perhaps the reason why the Assembly and Co-op are not used lies in those bodies themselves. I don't know for sure, but some students described the Assembly as a group in which the discussions turn into monologues and the members are too wrapped up in themselves to do much for anyone else. The mention of General Co-op brings a laugh. Such a situation is basically and inherently bad, whether the critics of these organizations are in the wrong or not. There must be some basis for such derision.

Our experiences in the past three years have taught us that the people in an organization have the most to do towards the ultimate success of any project. The organization may be relatively small, as in the Assembly, Co-op, or the Administration; on the other hand, it may be large, as in the case of the student body. It is up to all the students, but more particularly the student leaders and the members of the Administration to realize this.

We, as veterans, are basically the same as when we left here to enter service. The college is not the same. We feel that all the students owe it to the school as well as to themselves to help put things back to where they belong. We feel that the Administration can do more than they have been doing towards the same end.

College Choir Charms Audience At Westhampton

By JILL STAUF

On Thursday, February 21, the College Choir took the first step on its touring road to success. With robes and white collars in hand the members gathered at the music building to wait for the buses that would take them to Richmond.

It was one of those spring days that prompts singers to vocalize even when off-stage, and the choristers found it hard to obey "Doc" with silence. The first stop in Richmond was at the studios of WRNL radio station where a transcription of the concert was made. This recording was broadcast on Sunday.

After getting something to eat the group arrived at Westhampton College. The choir people became acquainted with their place of performance and then settled to wait for the signal to go on. They sat around in groups, some playing bridge, some checking on last minute words, some dancing to a record they had collected, and Mr. Fehr saying, "Now remember to get that big, round tone".

Finally the time came and the choir filed neatly into a semicircular pattern. The director, Mr. Fehr, accepted the welcoming applause and turned around to receive on his downbeat the first chord of Palestrina's Gloria Patri. From that moment the audience was completely charmed. The power of the group to exemplify its excellent training showed up in diction as well as feeling. The controlled, yet fully adequate direction of Mr. Fehr were spontaneously responded to by the Choir.

Demonstration of the depth in tone, acquired particularly through the bass section, came in Salvation is Created, by Tschmesnokoff. The sixteenth century Echo Song of novel character was particularly appealing.

In exciting two Negro spirituals, Deep River and Ride the Charlot, the Choir excelled in phrasing, contrast of shading, and musical expressiveness. O Sing Your Songs, the most powerfully impressive piece of the concert was done expertly.

A reception following the concert gave the choir members an opportunity to hear comments and exchange opinions. An expert critic of music in Virginia ventured to say that in time the William and Mary Choir, could, with complete cooperation become, not only the best in Virginia, but one of the finest in the country. The professional way in which the concert was presented, the techniques executed, the tempos adhered to, the dynamics carefully expressed, and the brilliance of voice projection merited the utmost praise.

Carrying the concert home with them the Choir sang all the way. A small sensation was caused when the 60 members invaded a White Tower for hamburgers.

Finally, at 1:15 a. m., the quiet of the campus was broken, as the tired but happily successful choristers returned from a day of applause to study and sleep.

Four Eastern Colleges Unite In Radio Network

New York, N. Y. — Network radio broadcasting is not only a job for professionals. At least four eastern colleges have joined their student-run campus stations in a permanent wire hookup. This direct link transmits a continuous exchange of lectures, debates, music, and sports between Swarthmore, Haverford, Bryn Mawr, and the University of Pennsylvania, all members of the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System. The IBS also includes campus stations at Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Columbia, Brown, Williams, Union, Cornell, Bucknell, University of Virginia, Alabama, and Stephens.

Before the war, college stations were going on the air from Maine to California. Special wired-radio transmission systems confined their broadcasts to the col-

Inquiring Reporter

Frenchmen are noted for their charm and politesse — also for their devotion to home and family. When Dr. Macy became the "Inquiring Reporter" for the week, his question was:

"What are the three indispensable qualities your eventual husband or wife should have?"

Howard Hyle: "Try me another week! Catch me sometime when I'm in a gay mood!"

Penny Allenbaugh: "Lil Abner's build, Dagwood's ingenuity, Snuffy Smith's naturalness."

Tut Bartz and Bren Macken: "Oh jest! Well, definitely be a good cook, kind (that covers a lot of ground), and be a good hunter."

Lou Jones: "Looks, personality, and terrific!"

Rollo Miller: "Me! I'm not fixing to get married! A little sense, I guess, and looks."

Marcia Levering: "A sense of humor, poisenality, and a face that won't stop a clock."

Tuga Wilson: "Patience with my five children, a lot smarter than I am, and love me."

Dick Baker: "What are you talking about? Loyalty, devotion, and lots of money."

Woody Kinnamon: "Brunette, intellectual, and good-looking."

Bob Calmes: "Have a good disposition by eating stewed prunes, qualities of a mother for my children, her beauty remain throughout our marriage."

Spotted campus canine: "Wuff!"

Impy Buchanan: "Thoughtfulness, ruggedness, sense of humor, and if you want four, smoke a pipe."

Bob DeForest: "Hm-mm-mm—be a good cook, good natured (she'd have to be), and good period."

Bob Ascherl: "Huh!! Let me see—a head on her shoulders, nice, and like to have a good time."

11 Musicians Join College Jazz Band

William and Mary's jazz band has been reorganized and will play for the Saturday night dances at the College. Included among the 11 members are Pat Indence, Donald Koons, Joe Rego, and Bill Waid on the saxophones; Jay Ball and Andrew Williams playing trumpets; drummer Bob DeForest; pianist Mary Lou Strong; trombonists Wesley Hill and John Phipps; and Al Blumenthal on the bass fiddle. The band will first be heard at the March 2 dance.

While announcing the formation of the band, Alan C. Stewart, assistant professor of fine arts, also said that he made one last attempt to get a band rehearsing for next year's football games last night. Mr. Stewart added that there is a possibility of the orchestra giving a concert in May.

Holt Addresses Asia Seminar

Dr. Claire Holt, anthropologist, of the South East Asia Institute, spoke at the meeting of the Marshall-Wythe Seminar on Friday, February 22, on the political and economic aspects of Indonesia, Java, and other south east Asia countries now in the midst of nationalistic upheavals.

One of the founders of the Institute in 1941, Mrs. Holt lived in Indonesia for seven years, and during the war taught Malay students at Columbia University. Her speech on "South Asia and the Problem of Colonialism" was followed by questions from those in the audience.

Some of the questions were: What form of government do the nationalists want? Is there danger of disunity on political and religious grounds, if the nationalists gain their independence? What about a Malay Federation? Are the nationalists representative of the people as a whole? What would be the effect of colonial independence on the Netherlands, Britain, and France? What about United States supplies of rubber, tin, etc., from south east Asia? What would happen if the nationalists should refuse to accept negotiations and thus reach a deadlock? How would the United States be involved?

Members of the discussion panel who held a pre-Seminar meeting to formulate questions are Ann Bruce, Myrtle Colona, Jan Freer, Keith Ann Gamble, Susan McGeachin, Carol Parker, Sybil Schwartz, and Bobbie Steely. Dr. Bruce T. McCully was chairman, assisted by Dr. W. Warner Moss.

The next Seminar, to be held Friday, March 8, will concern "China and the Problem of Nationalism". John deFrancis, of Yale University, will speak; Dr. Moss is chairman. Mr. deFrancis has studied the problem of the Mongols in China and is an authority on the Chinese language.

Girls' Council Sponsors Saturday Night Dance

Candle light, soft spotlights and sweet music carried out the theme of last Saturday night's weekly dance, which was sponsored by the Pan Hellenic Council in Blow Gym from 9:00 to 12:00.

The admission price was fifty cents per couple and entitled one to an evening of full enjoyment. The main lounge of the men's gym was lighted with candles, set in long slender brass candlesticks and was the rendezvous of many a tired but happy couple. Attendance was estimated at about 125 couples, who danced in the rich atmosphere of the main dance floor which was illuminated with only colored spots.

The guest band featured its saxist, who was with Bob Chester and Orchestra before induction.

Work-Study Program Finds Jobs, Plans Schedules

By DOT FERENBAUGH

Scholarship and work are the object of the work-study plan as set up by the College. "The work-study plan is unusual because it enables the student to carry his normal academic load and to work satisfactorily at varied jobs here in Williamsburg with the assistance of the College," said Dr. Sharvy G. Umbeck, Director of the Program.

A student desiring to put himself through college may use the work-study plan for a part of his expenses or for the entirety of them. Approximately 70 boys have put themselves through college through their own financial efforts.

The difference between a work-study plan and any other program for self-support in college is the connection with the College, whereby class schedules are matched with the proportion of work a student plans to do. Scholarship is essential, for if the student falls behind he cannot continue to work. William and Mary is responsible for coordinating the study time of students using the program.

The Travis House is entirely manned by 40 college men and the cashiers are college girls under the work-study plan. College students have worked at the Travis House since the spring of 1943. During the war the Travis House only served one meal, but beginning sometime between March 5 and 10, meals will be served between 12:00 p. m. and 2:00 p. m., and 6:00 p. m. and 8:00 p. m. every day.

A surprising number of girls, approximately 35 or 40, work in various positions of the Restoration. They act as church secretaries, Wren Building guides, cashiers at the Travis House; while the boys are waiters, ushers, garage repairmen, and stock clerks.

The most important part of the plan is that it is tied in with the College and it creates spirit among those boys or girls working. The essence of the program is revealed in President John E. Pomfret's statement, "the College wants to make it possible for every capable student to go to college if he is willing to put himself through."

Former Captain Speaks At I.R.C.

Guest speaker for the meeting of the International Relations club, held Thursday, February 21, was Colgate W. Prentis. Mr. Prentis, formerly serving as a captain in the U. S. Army, has received his discharge and returned to his home in Williamsburg.

Speaking on the Student Federalist Movement, now organized in 35 colleges and universities in the country, Mr. Prentis outlined a general history of the movement and proposed to the IRC that such an organization be established here. The organization's main aims would be: 1) stimulate thinking on the need of world government; 2) educate students in the principle of freedom; 3) support all steps which would lead to this aim. It would be composed of high school and college chapters which will work toward the goal of federal world government in the most effective way. A discussion followed the proposal.

Ben Crowson, graduate student at William and Mary, suggested that William and Mary be the first college to establish a United Nations Organization. Additional discussion followed, but no definite decisions were reached as to the advisability of such a suggestion for the UNO.

Dance Committee Plans To Change Membership

A reorganization meeting of the Dance Committee, under the leadership of Marilyn Wood, was held on Thursday night, February 21. Instead of being composed solely of representatives from the various clubs on campus, as it has been for some time, the committee will now include representatives from each dormitory, sorority and fraternity, Mortarboard, and German Club. Reorganization plans were discussed last Thursday night and sponsors for future dances were planned. Elections for the coming year will be held tomorrow night at the weekly meeting.

Hampton Students Present Program

Students from Hampton Institute entertained the Presbyterian Supper Club at their meeting Sunday night, February 25.

The group of 15 students gave a program of songs of various types. Jean Goodwyn, moderator of the club, said that the concert was given in conjunction with an exchange of programs by the Institute and the Supper Club.

Vagabond Jinx Stephens Interviews Frankie, Krupa

Restoration Hostess Plans To Write For Government Or On Newspaper

Although she is a Tennessean by birth, Jinx Stephens hasn't a trace of a southern accent, because she didn't stay there long enough to acquire one. "Since my father works for the Treasury Department we don't settle in one place," Jinx said. Right now her family is living in Washington, D. C.

In New York City, Jinx attended a large girl's high school, and while there, worked for the school paper. Her speciality was features and in three years she interviewed personalities such as Gene Krupa, Red Barber, Danny Kaye, and Eddy Duchin. Jinx once went to interview Gertrude Lawrence, when the star was playing in "Lady in the Dark". Somehow she got lost behind stage and eventually ended up by interviewing Victor Mature and Danny Kaye, as well as Gertrude Lawrence. Jinx recalls that Danny Kaye was very nice and gave her a free ticket to sit in the orchestra.

One of her most vivid recollections is the interview she had with Frank Sinatra way back before he got famous. Jinx said "No one knew who he was then, but someone said Tommy Dorsey had a new singer so we decided to get a story on him. We didn't pointment. As a matter of fact Frankie seemed very pleased that anyone would want to interview him."

In her spare time Jinx works as a hostess for the Restoration and when she's home she likes to go bowling and sailing. Aside from that she claims she has no hobbies. Since she is president of the Intercollegiate Debate Council and president of the International Relations Club as well as a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity Jinx has little time for leisure.

Upon graduation in June she would like to get a job on a newspaper or else get a government job with some writing connected with it. Although Jinx came down here with the intention of taking pre-journalism the course was dropped her freshman year, causing her to switch to government. "If possible I'd like to get a job where I'd do some traveling. I've moved around so much I kind of hate the idea of settling down."

Counseling Group Advises Students

Finding their old quarters in Marshall-Wythe 116 overcrowded, the College Counseling Department has moved to room 204, formerly the office of Joe S. Floyd, Jr., assistant professor of economics and business administration. Mr. Floyd has moved to Dr. Southworth's office.

The counseling department is designed to help every student throughout his college career. Royal B. Embree, Jr., assistant professor of psychology and director of counseling, now on leave of absence, started the present system of student guidance in 1941. Entering students are subjected to a battery of psychological tests to aid in determining their strong and weak points and to guide them in the selection of courses, etc. The staff is willing to give advice on a student's problems at all times. In addition, each undergraduate has a separate file in the office containing personal data, test data, and his college record.

Stan Magdziak Makes All-State Court Squad

As a fitting reward for two seasons of outstanding court play, Stan Magdziak, William and Mary's ace forward, was named last week to the Associated Press all-State basketball squad. Honorable mention went to the Tribe's fine guard, Chet Mackiewicz.

The voting this year was a departure from the usual method in that, for the first time, six players were chosen for the first team. The selectors were unable to decide whether Magdziak or Bill Balas, of Hampden-Sydney, should have one of the forward positions, so both were nominated. Freddie Gantt, of Richmond, was a unanimous choice for the other forward post, while Harry Bushkar, V.P.I., and Chuck Noe, University of Virginia, fill the guard slots. At center is Tony DiServio, Richmond.

Magdziak, who was barely edged off the squad last year, being named captain of the second team, played such a fine brand of ball this year that it was impossible to withhold recognition of his ability. He and Chet Mackiewicz have led the Indians all season in consistency and dependability. Stan's scoring highlight of the season was his performance against V.M.I., when he dropped 22 points through the hoop. Immediately following this came his total of 20 against Hampden-Sydney. Another of Magdziak's attributes is his durability, demonstrated by the fact that in several games during the season he went the whole 40 minutes.

Braves Rout Jacket Quint

Coach Frosty Holt tied another scalp to his belt as his warriors unleashed a burst of power to defeat a spirited but inexperienced five from Randolph-Macon by a score of 77-38, Monday night in Blow Gymnasium.

The Jackets, under the tutelage of Coach Sanford, showed determination throughout the tilt, but the Indians, paced by the brilliant floor play of Magdziak, Salyers and Bunting, kept complete control of the ball during the game.

It took the Indians a few minutes to get an eye on the basket, when, Magdziak finally hit the hoop to start the night's scoring spree. Although Magdziak played the first half and only sev-

Redmen Trim Maryland In League Clash, 42-36

After coming from behind in the second half the William and Mary basketball team edged out favored University of Maryland last Wednesday, 42-36, before a capacity crowd in Blow Gym.

Things were fairly even in the first period until the Terps, led by Poling, Gleasner, and Turyn, turned on the heat and made the score 22-17 in their favor at half-time.

It was a determined Indian squad that came on the floor to begin the second half. The Redmen quickly tied the score on shots by Chet Mackiewicz and Don Sudkamp. From there on it was nip and tuck, with both teams battling for every point. The Tribe racked up point after point from everywhere on the court as they slowly built up a nine-point lead. Bunting, Magdziak, Salyers, and Sudkamp all bucketed points in the tilt.

The locals led by a 42-36 count with four minutes to play, and froze the ball for the remainder of the game.

It was an interesting fact that the two high scorers were on the Maryland quintet. Poling was high with 11 points, and Turyn was second with ten. Sudkamp and Mackiewicz were high for the Redmen with nine points apiece.

SPORTS SPIEL

By BUD JONES

Coach McCray has announced that there will definitely be three home football games next year. The Tribe will play V.P.I. on October 12, V.M.I. on October 26, and the University of Maryland on November 2. The game with V.M.I. will be homecoming. Mr. McCray also hopes to add one additional game to this home schedule. He also wants to have a "B" team next year, and if so, plans will be made to have at least two home games for this squad.

According to records in the athletic office this is the best home schedule that William and Mary has had for the past ten years. Prospects are good for the 1946 team, so we should see some good football next year, and in quantity. Everyone has clamored for home games, and now we have them.

— W-M —

It was a pleasure to see the William and Mary basketball squad beat the University of Maryland last Wednesday. Coach Holt and his men really did themselves proud. Everyone on the Tribe squad who played during the second half did well, and the "Freezing" technique shown at the end of the game was remarkable. The shellacking also handed to V.M.I. and Randolph-Macon shows that the locals deserved a bid to the Southern Conference tournament.

INTRAMURAL NEWS

Twelve students entered the intramural ping pong tournament which began on February 15. In the first round Pete Moncure defeated Wally Bolding, Jim Sawyer defeated Dick MacCracken, Frank Deierhoi defeated Moe Kish and H. Levine defeated M. Bleiberg. Three games of 21 points are played for each round, the contestant taking 2 out of 3 wins. The deadline for completion of the first round is March 2. The semi-finals must be played by March 9 and the finals by March 16.

Plans for an intramural handball tournament will be drawn up next week. About sixty students entered last year's tournament which ended with Tom Campbell coming out on top.

Any man interested in a Life Saving course for instructors should contact Kenneth Rawlinson of the athletic department. All candidates must have a senior life saving certificate and instruction will be held at night.

Indians Play Deacons At Raleigh Thursday

Led by their all-State forward, Stan Magdziak, William and Mary's Indians invade Raleigh tomorrow to participate in the annual Southern Conference tournament, facing Wake Forest in the opening round.

The Tribe's invitation was received as a result of their late-season comeback which earned them four victories out of their last five Conference starts and enabled them to finish with a record of five wins against the same number of defeats in league play.

Other teams which will compete include North Carolina, Duke,

Tri-Color Downs Keydets, 60-32

Clinching a bid to the Southern Conference tournament, William and Mary's basketball team defeated VMI last Saturday night, 60-32, in Blow Gym.

The game started off slowly, Sudkamp, Tribe center, bucketing the first goal. After that William and Mary had their own way as they rapidly built up a lop-sided score. The Indians had little difficulty working the ball in to the basket during the period, giving the Redmen ample opportunity to fatten their scoring averages.

With the score 22-12 at halftime, the locals came out and increased their lead some more as they sank shots almost at will. The entire Tribe squad got into the game and all scored at least one point as the Indians rolled on to victory. The Keydets had a lot of trouble getting close to the basket and were forced to take long set shots, as the Indian defense was tight throughout the game.

Stan Magdziak was again high scorer of the evening with 14 markers. This increased his season's total to 231 points, an average of 12.8 points a game. Woody Kinnamon and Bob Holley tied for second place honors with 10 points. Bill Hawkins, VMI center, was high scorer for the opponents with 10 points. William and Mary was hot on foul shots, since the Redmen sank 12 out of 14 gratis throws.

V.P.I., George Washington, Maryland, and N. C. State. Only two teams were seeded, instead of the usual four, Carolina's White Phantoms being ranked first and Duke's Blue Devils second.

In the opening games tomorrow afternoon V.P.I. meets George Washington and N. C. State clashes with Duke. The night program features Carolina vs. Maryland and W & M vs. Wake Forest.

Friday night's semi-finals will match the winners of the first two games at 7:30 and the victors in the latter two contests will tangle at 9:30.

The championship struggle will be played on Saturday at 8 p. m.

Coach Frosty Holt's traveling squad consists of ten men, four forwards, a like number of guards, and two centers. Forwards are Magdziak, Woody Kinnamon, Jere "Baby" Bunting, and Dave Clark. The guard positions are taken care of by Chet Mackiewicz, Garfield "Sally" Salyers, Woody Williams, and Tex Mengel. Centers are the squad's colossus, Don Sudkamp, and Bob Holley.

William and Mary's Conference record discloses several close decisions. The opening encounter was with George Washington and ended with a 45-39 scalp being taken by the Indians.

Then, however, came four successive setbacks. The first two were heartbreakers which were lost by a total of three points. Wake Forest eked out a 36-34 decision in Blow Gym and Richmond's Spiders froze the ball for the last minute and a half to come up with a 39-38 win on their home court. George Washington's Colonials, with a revamped lineup, trounced Holt's squad, 65-51; and, following this, Wake Forest made it two in a row by winning, 59-51.

This prolonged losing streak was brought to an end on February 9 when the Braves carved out a 44-40 win, which was all the more appreciated since it came at the expense of Richmond. V.M.I. then bowed by 39-28.

After losing to the Gobblers of V.P.I., the Tribe upset a highly-

Barksdale's Coed Cagers Meet Westhampton Saturday Afternoon

Out to avenge last year's 51-26 defeat at the hands of Westhampton, the William and Mary co-ed cagers will tangle with the Richmonders Saturday at 4:30 p. m. in Blow gymnasium.

With a record of three losses and one win the squaws will try to narrow down the margin and end the season with an equal number of wins and losses. The Westhampton basketekers are a very fast team and are known for their excellent footwork on the court. William and Mary's previous defeats have shown glaring errors in guard play and inability to recover toss-up balls and rebounds from the backboard. Playing on their home court for the first time this season should somewhat alleviate the situation for the locales.

The freshman varsity rounds out its schedule when they encounter St. Catherine's school in Richmond.

Having already beaten Norfolk division and losing to RPI last week, 44-27, Dr. Sinclair's charges led by Millie Riddle will take the floor in the hopes of gaining another decision in the win column.

Lack of practices has hampered the development of the freshman team as a team since all the players are good individually. St. Catherine's aggressive squad will have to be stopped by the highest calibre of play if William and Mary is to triumph.

Lack Of Rated Officials Hinders Co-ed Intramurals

William and Mary's basketball officiating board, a local board of the National Officiating Committee, has been operating under the handicap of a large intramural schedule and a small number of rated officials to cope with it.

Last year the board was reinstated in Williamsburg and this year its members have refereed or umpired numerous basketball games, both intramural and intercollegiate. Because of the expanded co-ed sports program the group of 17 officiators is inadequate to meet the emergency which is certain to arise this only. A local rating designates a person as a competent official in her locality and a national rating enables a person to officiate anywhere in the United States. Dr. Sinclair and Miss Marion Reeder hold national certificates, Peggy Burdick and Jane Anne Hogg are locally rated, and Jo Hubbell, "Tommy" Smith, and Betty Borenstein are intramural officials.

Because of the lack of officials, outside umpires will have to be brought in, which will take a large slice out of the women's athletic treasury but an increased enroll-spring when not only a wealth of baseball umpires but also tennis umpires and referees will be needed.

At present all officiating board members are students or teachers at William and Mary with the exception of Mrs. Thomas, who is an alumna of the college. Written tests as well as practical tests must be passed before a rating is granted. Grades of 75, 80, and 85 must be made on tests in order to get an intramural, local, or national rating, respectively.

An intramural official may work games in her own institution ment in the Board would offset this. It is definitely not necessary to be a physical education major to take up officiating.

Officers of the Williamsburg Board are: Chairman, Miss Marion Reeder; Secretary, Peggy Burdick; Vice Chairman-Treasurer, Harriet Hochstrasser; Chairman of the Examining Committee, Dr. Sinclair. The members include Martha Ann Adams, Sallie Adams, Miss Barksdale, Pat Bowman, Miss Helen Black, Ruth Johnson, Mildred Riddle, Miss Gladys Milliken, and Mrs. Thomas.

Kinnamon, Tennessee Athlete, Bolsters Frosty Holt's Quintet

One of the athletes from Tennessee on Coach "Frosty" Holt's quintet is forward Woody Kinnamon.

A weak ankle prevented Kinnamon from active participation in basketball early in the season but lately he has shown that he can do more than hold his own on the hardwood. Woody uses his height of six feet, one and one half inches to full advantage and is constantly worrying his opponents with long shots.

While attending high school in Etowah, Tenn., Woody was awarded the position of forward on the district team for eastern Tennessee. In football he won honorable mention as tailback and was lauded for his skill in tossing and receiving aerals.

Last summer Woody worked out with the Chattanooga baseball team. Although his high school did not sponsor baseball, he has played a good bit of sandlot ball and prefers this sport to any others.

The Pittsburgh Pirates once offered Woody's father a place on its team. Following in the footsteps of his father, Woody hopes to play in an outfield position for a major league team after finishing college.

Woody's most unforgettable experience in high school occurred during a basketball trip to Chattanooga. Woody and his teammates got lost in the midst of a blinding snow storm, but managed to reach their destination after three hours delay.

R.P.I. Trounces Freshmen, 44-27

William and Mary's co-ed varsity freshman basketball team played host to R.P.I. last Thursday and were handed a 44-27 defeat by their more experienced opponents in Jefferson Gym.

Coach Sinclair used 13 players in an effort to stop the onslaught. However, Jean Tayne's 20 points coupled with Mary Nunce's 19 points gave R. P. I. an insurmountable advantage.

The game was cleanly played with only eleven fouls being committed, nine of them called against the losers.

William and Mary scored 17 of their 27 points in the last half, largely due to the efforts of Millie Riddle, who garnered a total point score of 16 and whose play was the only bright spot in the squaw's offense.

Track Squad Begins Work

Nine candidates answered Coach Dick Gallagher's initial call for trackmen on February 21. Informal practice began Monday, February 25, and will continue until the close of spring football practice. At that time formal practice will begin. Weather permitting, the trackmen will work out at Cary Field, otherwise, practice will be confined to the gym, where the emphasis will be on loosening-up exercises.

The Indian cindermen, starting almost from scratch this year, hope to compete in a full schedule of meets. Last year the team had only two meets, winning twice from Gallaudet. As yet no definite schedule has been arranged as it is not known how many schools will field teams this spring. The Southern Conference meet will be held during the latter part of May and William and carry off individual honors.

Coed Varsity Conquers Notre Dame College

Squad Drops Game To Beaver Sextet

Taking an early lead in the first period, the coed varsity cagers gained a brilliant 36-19 victory over Notre Dame College of Maryland last Saturday evening on the losers' court in Baltimore. The conquest marked the first victory for the Squaws this season.

Playing well throughout the entire game, the home squad held the lead at all times except for one brief moment in the first largely on long-range shots. It was a different story, however, in the last two periods of the game. Aided by a tight defense that allowed only one point to be scored against them in eight minutes, Ann Vineyard paced the forwards to a 12-point lead at the start of the fourth quarter. Vineyard, showing her brilliant style during the entire game, was high scorer of the day with 14 points to her credit. Beegee Grant was close behind, tallying 5 times for 10 markers; and Carol Beinbrink and Jane Beatty played fine ball, quarter. The Tri-Color offense relied almost entirely on close lay-up shots to build up a quarter time lead of 8-5. Fast, elusive plays put them on the tall end of the 14-11 score at the half.

Play in the first half was on a fairly even basis, with the Squaws bombarding the nets at close quarters and Notre Dame depending chalking up 6 points apiece. Both Beinbrink and Beatty showed up especially well in shooting rebounds from under the basket.

Early in the final period, a late rally, spearheaded by Mickey Saydah, was staged by Notre Dame, but William and Mary guarding soon cut it short. Betty

Gold Key Organization Entertains Campus Visitors

New Group Acts As Dating Bureau, Sightseeing Agency, Traveler's Aid

"If you need help in entertaining visitors to the College or need work of any kind done, just call on us," say the members of the Gold Key, who banded together with the primary object of being of service to any club that needs help. The idea for the name came from a similar organization at Yale University, and some of the boys on campus decided that William and Mary needed a group to welcome visitors and make them comfortable while they stayed in Williamsburg.

According to members of the Gold Key they have been of most use in welcoming athletic teams. The group writes ahead and asks how many boys or girls are coming, how long they will be here and any other needed information. When they arrive they are met by a committee, taken to dormitories, escorted to dinner, and generally guided about the campus.

When the University of Maryland's basketball team visited the school the Gold Key made arrangements for them to date some of the campus girls. Around 10:30 p. m. the boys showed up for their dates, and said the game was just over, and told Ginna Lewis, a member of the Gold Key, that they were ready to go out. Ginna, of course, explained that it was too late. That was one of the few times that the Gold Key has had any difficulty with their plans.

At this time there are seven members: Pat Ellison, president; Billy Hux, Dale Parker, Ginna Lewis, Betsy DeVol, Marilyn Woodberry, and Herbert Tucker. The organization is not an official club.

Newcomers Appear In Theatrical Cast

Ladies in Retirement, to be presented by the William and Mary Theater on March 13 and 14, is in rehearsal with a cast of five veterans and two newcomers. ## Francis D. Lazenby Joins WM Faculty

Dr. Francis D. Lazenby is a new professor in the ancient language department. He will be at William and Mary until April 4, relieving Dr. A. Felzer Wagener, head of the ancient language department, of some of his classes. Professor Wagener is disposing of a few of his duties in order to write an Anthology of World Literature, and to revise a textbook, Latin and the Romans, that he wrote a few years ago.

Dr. Lazenby is from Hopewell, Va. He received his M. A. and Ph. D. degrees at the University of Virginia which he attended from 1933 to 1939, and where he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa. For the following two years, he taught Latin there along with Philip Francis Dupont, a Latin Fellow. In 1941, he entered the army in which his duties as an interpreter among Italian prisoners took him all over the United States.

Dr. Lazenby was discharged only a short time before coming here. He is taking over four of Dr. Wagener's Latin classes and one class on the Legacy of Rome to the Western World. Dr. Wagener is retaining his duties as head of the Ancient Languages Department, and as Chairman of Special Events.

Faculty Vets Return To W-M, Relate Odd War Experiences

By JANE COLEMAN

Army, Navy, and Air Corps faculty veterans, who have returned to peaceful living here at William and Mary have very definite thoughts about the prospects of lasting peace.

Dr. Frazer Neiman feels that "there will be a chance for a lasting peace in 300 years, but not before. However, if the people get interested in the UNO, I think it will be able to take care of minor frictions that arise." Dr. David M. White, a former officer in the Navy, told his feelings in the form of a story. "Margaret Fuller, after hearing Carlyle's lectures, said to him, 'Sir, you have made me believe in the Universe.' Carlyle answered, 'By God, Madame, you'd better!'" Dr. White said, "I believe the chances for a lasting peace are good, because I refuse to believe otherwise." Dr. R. H. Henneman feels that public opinion, influenced by the atomic bomb, will be more active in preserving peace than the UNO.

"My war experiences are either too sordid or too dull to be printed," protested Dr. Neiman, former Military Intelligence officer, when he was found browsing about the magazines in the library. Connected with the prisoner of war interrogation group, he questioned German prisoners as they were captured. He found them to be very different after the Normandy break-through. Much of their arrogance and feeling of superiority had gone.

"Early one morning," he related, "A prisoner was brought in, who had been on his way to replacements, with a document, which we found after searching him. This document turned out to contain the complete order of battle against one of our sectors in the front." It was things like that that added a note of color to this 'sordid' job of Dr. Neiman's.

Dr. White was connected with MacArthur's staff in the Philippines. His job was to edit a Japanese language newspaper, of which a million copies a week were dropped in Jap territory as propaganda. He then interviewed the prisoners to see whether or not this paper had anything to do with their surrender.

An unusual incident happened one night while Dr. White was out on the trail. He came across a wounded Japanese soldier, who was terrified at the sight of him. Dr. White, who talks Japanese, tried to assure him that he wasn't going to hurt him. Finally he showed the Jap two pennies, one American, one Australian. At the sight of the face of Lincoln on the penny, the wounded Jap began raving happily. In Japan, Lincoln is a great hero.

Winged Victory, which was shot at Santa Ana, had the able assistance of Dr. Henneman, who was an interviewing officer there. It was his job to give aptitude tests to boys, in order to judge whether or not they would make good airmen. "Our whole war effort showed how terribly wrong the enemy was about our war potentialities," Dr. Henneman said. "The individual man's performance was outstanding."

Library Gains Recent Books

Of the list of 50 books selected annually by the members of the American Library Association as the outstanding books of 1945, the College Library has already obtained 42 of these before the publication of the list. This indicates, according to Robert H. Land, associate librarian, that "our library is pretty much on the ball so far as contemporary literature is concerned."

Thirty-six of the volumes have been purchased with the War Memorial Bookshelf Fund, one with the Personal Memorial Fund, and three by different departments. One arrived in document form and another is on order.

The remaining eight books will probably be purchased to complete the list if the reviews seem satisfactory to library authorities.

The list of books now in possession of the library includes A. Woolcott, Adams; The Collected Poetry of W. H. Auden, Auden; Teacher in America, Barzun; The Young Jefferson, 1743-1789, Bowlers; Pleasant Valley, Bromfield; Enrico Caruso, His Life and Death, Caruso; The Black Rose, Costain; Bolts of Melody, Dickinson; A Texan in England, Dobie; Color and Democracy, Du Bois; General Education in a Free Society, Harvard University; The Peacock Sheds His Tail, Hobart; The Cherokee Strip, James; A Lion Is in the Streets, Langley; Solution in Asia, Lattimore; These Are the Russians, Lauterbach; Cass Timberlane, Lewis; The Egg and I, MacDonald; The World, the Flesh, and Father Smith, Marshall; Up Front, Mauldin; The American Language, First Supplement, Mencken; Fighting Liberal, Norris; Anything Can Happen, Papashvily; Immortal Village, Peattie; Three O'Clock Dinner, Pinckney; African Journey, Robeson; A History of Western Philosophy, Russell; The Middle Span, Santayana; The Age of Jackson, Schlesinger; Rickshaw Boy, Shaw; Captain from Castile, Shellabarger; Atomic Energy for Military Purposes, Smythe; Cannery Row, Steinbeck; Names on the Land, Stewart; General Marshall's Report: The Winning of the War in Europe and the Pacific, U. # State Department Offers Jobs In Foreign Service

All Veterans and Servicemen Eligible For Oral And Written Examinations

Members of the armed forces and honorably discharged veterans are being given the first chance to join the foreign service as commissioned foreign service officers.

Foreign service officers are the career officers of the Foreign Service, selected on the basis of competitive examinations and commissioned as both diplomatic and consular officers.

The responsibilities include performing notarial services, issuing visas and passports, certifying commercial invoices, and carrying out certain routine and administrative duties.

As in the Army or Navy, a career in the Foreign Service involves important responsibilities in an ever-increasing field of interest. Officers occasionally are selected for special language training in connection with service in the Far East, Near East, and other areas.

Officers Become Ministers

Following their appointment to the Foreign Service, officers serve in an unclassified grade for a period of probation of approximately two years which goes through the officer's assignment at his first post and the subsequent brief training course at the Department of State. Officers in the top grades are eligible for appointment by the President as ambassadors or ministers.

Applicants entering the service in the unclassified grades generally start at the minimum base salary of $2,870 per year. The maximum base salary for highest ranking officers is $10,000. While officers are abroad their salaries are supplemented by rental and cost-of-living allowance varying according to the post, the size of the officers' families, and prevailing exchange rates.

Veterans, Servicemen Admitted

Admission to the Foreign Service is by examination. The standards of admission are severe and exacting. These opportunities for the present are limited to those on active duty in the armed forces and those in inactive status and honorably discharged veterans.

The examination consists of two parts, written and oral. It is a highly selective examination at college graduation level and is devised for candidates who meet the requirements of the Department of State in respect to intelligence and education, but who have not had an opportunity for review or special study in preparation for the test.

Exam Given In September

The written examination will begin at 9:00 a. m. on September 30, 1946, and will continue through four sessions, two that day and two on the following day.

Candidates eligible for the oral examination will be informed of the time and place at which they should appear before a Board of Examiners.

Candidates whose final-grade is 80 or higher will be placed on the eligibility list.

Veterans may obtain application blanks for the examination from the placement bureau of the College or the Board of Examiners for Foreign Service, P. O. Box 592, Princeton, N. J.

Monroe Hall Gets New Housemother

Mrs. Edith L. Ficklin has recently been appointed the new housemother for Monroe Dormitory, replacing Mrs. Emma Larimore, who has moved to Old Dominion Hall.

For the past three years Mrs. Ficklin had served as a substitute clerk in Aberdeen, Md., her home town, returning there from Virginia where she had lived 17 years previously. This, she stated, is her first experience in assuming the responsibilities of a housemother.

She was very much impressed by the College, as well as Williamsburg itself. Glancing around Monroe, she commented, "I've been trying to make the dorm look more homelike. It certainly seems to suit boys much better than girls."

Lazenby Discusses Italian Superstition

Relationships between examples of superstitions in Roman literature and those of modern Italians were discussed by Dr. Francis Lazenby at a meeting of Eta Sigma Pi, held February 11 at 8:00 p. m. in the Dodge room. Dr. Lazenby connected with the topic his war experiences, which brought him into contact with Italian war prisoners for four years.

The society is attempting to sponsor a revival of the movie, The Last Days of Pompeii, which would be open to the public in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. March 28 has been set as the tentative date for the showing.

Early spring will see the materialization of plans being made now for the annual faculty-student round-table discussion. Last year, for the first time on campus, the faculty-student round-table was held. "We expect this year's discussion to be as successful and as interesting to the student body as our previous one," stated Harrie Phillips, president of the society.

C. P. McCurdy Attends Charter Day Banquet

Charles P. McCurdy, executive secretary of the William and Mary Alumni Association, attended the Charter Day Banquet in New York, Wednesday, February 6. Leif Scheie, class of 1914, presided, and Charles P. Pollard was elected president and Mrs. Catherine Clark Baxter was re-elected secretary. A discussion was held on the Charter Day Gift Fund.

Ralph Lipfert, '44x, Lt. (jg) USN, Mrs. Gloria Hall Lipfert, '43, and their son visited Williamsburg last week.

Land Announces Library Donation

Junius Blair Fishburn of Roanoke, Va., recently advised the College associate librarian, Robert H. Land, that he wished to continue his annual gift, which has enabled the library to subscribe to the following representative United States papers: Baltimore Sun and Philadelphia Bulletin, from the east; Chicago Tribune, Detroit Free Press and Kansas City Star, from the mid-west; Louisville Courier Journal and New Orleans Times Picayune, from the south; and Los Angeles Times, from the west.

In the letter enclosing his check, Mr. Fishburn wrote that he hoped he could continue this contribution to the library "for about twenty years more".

In commenting on the gift, Mr. Land stated: "A publisher, Mr. Fishburn realizes the value to a library of a cross-section of the contemporary American press. Aside from presenting a sampling of editorial comment and public opinion to library users, the papers are a source of local news in sections of the country that mean 'home' to students and others."

William and Mary is one among several colleges and other institutions to whose libraries Mr. Fishburn has contributed. He has also donated books and money to the Roanoke Public Library of which he was formerly a trustee. Many books which he has given libraries were purchased by him on his travels throughout the world during the past half-century.

Mr. Fishburn is vice-president of the Times-World Corporation, which publishes two Roanoke daily papers and which owns radio station WDBJ. For 57 years he has been an officer and is now chairman of the board of the First National Exchange Bank of Roanoke.

In 1937, Mr. Fishburn received the Algernon Sydney Sullivan award at William and Mary in recognition of his helpfulness to others. The year before he established, by a gift of $10,000 to the College, a scholarship which is awarded annually to a male student on the basis of outstanding merit. Before the death of John Stewart Bryan, former president of William and Mary, Mr. Fishburn took out a life membership in the organization of the Friends of the College.

Borestein intercepted passes with alacrity and sparked her defense trio in advancing the ball to the forwards. Nonnie Fehse used her height to the best advantage in capturing balls rebounding from the backboard and Bobby Black's fine pass work gave the Squaws an impenetrable defense for the first time this season.

On the previous day, the Tri-Color met defeat at the hands of Beaver College to the tune of 43-31. The game was played in a small gymnasium at the victor's school in Philadelphia.

Despite the slack in the score, the coeds played an excellent fast game; but spectacular shooting by the Beaver ace, Jane Scott, proved too much. Scott scored almost at will against an otherwise tight defense to rack up 27 points for the victorious sextet.

Ann Vineyard was high scorer for the Tribe, chalking up 16 markers, which brought her season's total to 50 points.

Jefferson, 3 Sororities Lead Intramural Teams

Kappa Delta's second team and Jefferson dormitory each won a basketball match on February 18 while Barrett and Monroe played to an 8-8 tie the same evening. Ann Bennett lead KD to a 17-5 decision over Gamma Phi's second team. KD had a shutout at half-time with an eleven point margin. Brown Hall succumbed to Jefferson, 25-17, giving Jefferson its third win in intramural competition. Betty Mullinix paced the winners with 13 markers and Gillespie sparked the Brown sextet in the second half when she scored 11 points to narrow down a 19-4 deficit.

One game was played February 19, Kappa Kappa Gamma's third team defeating Gamma Phi's third team, 31-10. Humphries and Loynd rang up a combined total of 26 points in a free scoring contest.

With the score 21-20 in the last quarter, Alpha Chi Omega topped Tri Delt, 29-20, in a game which saw 19 fouls called against the winners and only seven of the foul shots converted into scores by the losers. Jerry Brown with 10 points and Ann Vineyard with 14 lead the Tri Delt and Alpha Chis respectively. Chi Omega continu-

On February 21 four games were played in Jefferson gym. The first engagement saw Chi O's second team tie Pi Phi's second team, 15-15. White stood out in a guard position for the Chi Omegas. Kappa Alpha Theta's second team lost out to Kappa Kappa Gamma's second team, 20-11, with DeVol getting 11 points for Kappa. Chi Omega's third team was easily beaten by Kappa's third team, 17-7 but the Chi O fourth team found the Theta third team too strong and were defeated 21-20. Smith, Theta, and Hardesty, Chi O, each amassed a total of 15 points.

Jefferson Hall copped the dormitory league championship when they conquered Barrett Hall, 32-19, on February 22. The Jeffersonians, lead by Elaine Passow ran rampant over the losers; but Barrett's guarding was superior to the play of her forwards. In a later match Chandler beat Monroe, 19-14.

League standings as of February 24 are:

Stan Magdziak, Ace Tribe Forward, Gains Position On All-State Squad

Richmond's Gantt received the highest total of votes and was, therefore, named captain. This is the third time in succession that the Spiders' ace has earned a berth on the mythical squad and, according to his coach, Mac Pitt, and others, including Frank Murray, of Virginia, he is one of the finest players to ever perform for the Red and Blue.

Another three-time winner is Bushkar, of V.P.I. He is the main reason why Tech had such a relatively easy time in clinching an invitation to the Southern Conference tournament.

Harry's running mate at the other guard position is Chuck Noe, star of the Virginia Cavaliers. A naval-unit student at the Charlottesville school, Noe was only a substitute during the 1945-46 competition.

Big surprise of the balloting was DiServio, Richmond freshman, who walked off with the center position, ousting Cliff Schroeder, Virginia, who held it last year. Tony rolled up an aggregate of 225 points this year, teaming with Gantt to account for the few triumphs the Spiders gained.

The remaining forward, Balas, of Hampden-Sydney, collected 340 points to be high man for the state and this, undoubtedly, had a lot to do with his choice. A little more investigation, however, shows that this figure is not so astronomical as it would appear, since Balas had 27 games in which to do his scoring, quite a few more contests than anybody else on the all-State team had an opportunity to participate in.

This is the second time that two first-year men have been chosen to the squad. The initial occurrence was in 1944, when Keith Harder, of Virginia, and Ed Holle, of William and Mary, received nominations.

Joe Ruddell, V.P.I. forward, was elected captain of the second team, being paired with Ed Ondrasik, of Roanoke College. Second-string guards are Al Marandino, Randolph-Macon, and Bob Richards, Bridgewater. Cliff Schroeder, Virginia, holds the center position.

Tribe Gains Tourney Bid

favored Maryland quint, 42-36. The game which clinched the tournament bid was last Saturday's 60-32 conquest of V.M.I.

This will be the second time in succession that William and Mary has been selected for the tourney, having reached the semi-finals last year under the direction of Rube McCray and Glenn Knox.

The Tri-Color's record in 1945 was somewhat below average. They won 7 games and lost 11, taking 3 Conference decisions out of 7 starts. Therefore, they were not expected to survive the opening round. The Braves, however, surprised the experts by toppling the fourth-seeded Citadel Bulldogs, 54-41. Magdziak piled up 20 points to lead both teams by a wide margin and Tom Campbell tallied 12. At half-time the Tribe held a 37-19 edge.

This victory carried the Big Green five into the semi-finals, where they faced the mighty Duke Blue Devils, defending champions. The Carolinians swiftly ran up a half-time score of 34-6 and coasted to an easy 57-22 triumph. Magdziak accounted for nearly half of his team's total, dropping in 10 points. Sapp was high man for the victors with five baskets and a brace of free throws.

Law-Makers Vote On Bill

Virginia General Assembly members met Saturday, February 23, to discuss and pass a bill to amend, re-enact, and repeal various sections of Acts of 1933 relating to borrowing money and accepting grants from the Federal Government for Virginia education, according to Charles J. Duke, Jr., bursar of the College and member of a committee which supported the bill.

Section 1 declares William and Mary and 11 other "public bodies" as "government instrumentalities for the dissemination of education", and the powers of each "shall be vested in and exercised by a majority of the members of its board."

Section 5 states that upon consent of the Governor, every institution may "acquire by purchase, gift, or otherwise, any project or to erect the same and in connection therewith to . . . make, issue and sell its bonds", and to do all such lawful acts as may be expedient to secure "grants, loans and/or financial assistance of any kind . . . in connection therewith under any act of Congress or this State." Holders of bonds issued by the educational institutions enter into contract in connection with obtaining grants or loans from the Federal Government "to erect any project, or to defray or partially defray the cost of labor and material employed in the erection of any project."

Every institution is authorized to maintain its project and to charge, and collect for its use, products, and/or services.

lege campus. In these stations, student actors, engineers, writers, announcers, musicians, and sound effects men are now receiving practical radio experience. Many of them have carried college degrees and college radio experience with them into the broadcasting industry.

The Intercollegiate Broadcasting System, a non-profit organization, links all these stations, and is co-operatively administered by its members from its office at 507 Fifth Avenue in New York. It offers complete technical and programming advice by mail, and personally through its field representative. When the new college radio workshop meets the proper standards, it is offered membership in the organization.

The slow IBS expansion during the war years has now taken a sudden jump. With students and veterans pouring back into the nation's colleges, IBS has been swamped with requests for information and help in getting college campuses all over the country "on the air."

wam or the small dining hall and been permitted to view the remains of the affair.

Although unable to attend because of a leaking rowboat, George was there in spirit nevertheless. His absence naturally threw the gathering into an uproar and the entertainment of the evening was thrown upon the able shoulders of the class presidents.

The devotees of Terpsichore were out in full force: Herb (Gypsy Rose) Bateman tried to work his way through a strip; Bren Macken, complete with Hawaiian hula skirt, undulated about the floor; the Harvey Girl Chorus (Bert Rance, Bob Galloway, Bob Doll, and Tut Bartz), complete with shapely legs, well-filled sweaters, and swinging skirts, put the Rockettes to shame; and Harry Stinson DANCED.

The metamorphosis of a 4-F to a 1-A, at the hands of an Army doctor, was done in silhouette by Earnest Edwards and Herb Bateman. In addition to group singing, Bill Giudice accompanied himself on an accordin, and Jimmy Freeman impersonated a Russian singer. Mimi White played a few selections on the piano.

Dick Baker, Marilyn Woodberry Lead Campaign For Campus Red Cross Chapter March 1-10

At a meeting held Monday night, February 25, in the Red Cross headquarters, College Red Cross canvassers discussed plans for the annual American Red Cross Drive from Friday, March 1, to Sunday, March 10.

Under the direction of Dick Baker and Marilyn Woodberry, 15 men and 27 women agents will conduct the campaign through the dormitories. Each canvasser will approach the students in an assigned dormitory hall or sorority house, and distribute posters and pamphlets meanwhile.

Membership cards are one dollar, but gifts above that amount will be accepted. Dollar subscriptions also entitle the donor to a Red Cross window sticker, while a Red Cross lapel pin will be given to each contributor.

this year, the Red Cross is driving for at least a dollar membership for each student.

Dr. Charles T. Harrison, faculty advisor of the college branch of the Red Cross, answered the complaint that the Red Cross sold articles to the servicemen overseas, instead of giving them free of charge. According to Dr. Harrison, this practice was carried on only when required by the Army command. Wherever there was a real need, supplies were always distributed without charge.

Dormitory canvassers are as follows: Mary Elizabeth Rigby, Dorothy Ellett, Ruth Lynch, Jacqueline Schutze, Mary Berger, and Ginny Jewell in Barrett; Sue Hopkins, Betty Lee Herb, Ella-mae Andrews and Shirley Cornell in Jefferson.

Also, Lore Barnes, Diana Wedel, Jane Cromwell, Marie Blair, Claire Brinley, and Virginia Northcott in Monroe; Pat Arnold and Terry Howe in Chandler.

Auctioned Attic Articles Augment Scholarship Funds

"Going, going, gone!" the auctioneer would chant, sounding his gavel upon the table. Could this be an auction? Could be, and the scene could be Phi Beta Kappa Hall where students and faculty members alike have gathered to see "attic articles", accumulated over a number of years in both dorms and sorority houses auctioned off.

Such an event has not taken place at William and Mary yet, but it easily could. Housemothers, janitors, and members of the administration are slowly but surely becoming tired of the hair-tearing problem of what to do about the "fourth-floor-mess".

A fantasy has been invented telling just what could happen if the situation does not improve. After taking the problem to the Student Assembly, General Co-operative Committees, President Pomfret, and finally the Board of Visitors, it is decided unanimously to hold an auction in Phi Beta on the second Tuesday of the third month of the school year. Hence the sound of the gavel, and excited shouts of spirited bidders. All unclaimed and unlabeled goods that have been filed away in the attics of the various dorms and sorority houses for posterity's sake are being auctioned off by the president of the Honor Council to the highest bidder. All the proceeds are going to the education scholarship fund.

A stack of notes dating as far back as 1935 is now being auctioned off. History notes first (the freshmen are certainly eager, Dr. McCully) biology next, philosophy, chemistry, and psychology. Ironing boards next; 18 from Barrett, two from Jefferson and 20 from Chandler. There are so many book cases, it is impossible to count them all, but they would make good fuel for the football bonfires. That big box of tin cans, formerly intended as contributions to the war effort, certainly went fast and for a good price too! One can always play "Kick the Can" with them. Old books of all sizes, shapes, and contents are popular articles in this fire sale, everything from Animal Biology to a well worn pocket edition of Madame Bovary. The auction is quickly drawing to a close. There are just a few empty cardboard boxes and a few dusty lampshade to go.

Remember, this is only an imaginative idea of what could be done to clear the dorm attics of a lot of unnecessary junk, but cleared attics would make a place to play "Hide and Go Seek" during noisy hours.
